NEW TECHNOLOGY VARIANCE APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS
for Elevator, Escalators, and Related Equipment

The Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 754, and Chapter 74 Administrative Rules requires interested parties to request and obtain a New Technology Variance from the Department prior to the installation of any device, equipment, or technology not permitted by the currently adopted standards. [74.120(a)]

The interested party making application for a New Technology Variance(s) shall submit a fee of $2,500.00 for each component, system, sub-system, function, or device for which a New Technology Variance is requested. [See 74.10(40) for the definition of a New Technology Variance.] The applicant will be notified of the Department's decision in writing.

1. Applications for a New Technology Variance(s) must be accompanied by supporting documentation and evidence that provide adequate proof to the Commission that compliance with the specific Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 754, and Administrative Rules Chapter 74, have been met.
2. Interested parties submitting an Application(s) for New Technology may provide any information the applicant deems essential for the consideration and evaluation of the application.
3. Applications must include, but are not limited to the following proof, as applicable: [See 74.120(b)]
 - a) An enumeration and description of all the requirements of the adopted standard for which a New Technology Variance is being requested (cite specific ASME Sections for each);
 - b) Documentary evidence to support a claim of equivalence or superiority to the requirements of the adopted standard;
 - c) Documentary evidence that the new technology is being, or may be considered, by the ASME Code Committee(s) for inclusion in a future standard;
 - d) An estimated time frame for the approval of the new technology by the ASME Code Committee(s);
 - e) Any additional supporting evidence deemed by the applicant to be necessary to assist in making a determination, and
 - f) The completed New Technology Variance Application and fees as outlined in Section 74.80(f).

Applicable fees may be paid by check or money order payable to the Texas Department of Licensing & Regulation and mailed to P. O. Box 12157 Austin, TX 78711. For overnight delivery the physical address is 920 Colorado Austin, TX 78701. The applicant will be notified of the Department's decision in writing.
